WHAT IT MEANS IF YOU'RE BUYING

This quarter is running a little slower than last year. The Covenant closed four homes in October, and with eight more in escrow it's on track for about 18 this quarter, against 31 in the same three months last year. There are 26 homes for sale right now, up from 25 at the start of October. At the pace homes have sold over the last year, that's about 3.7 months' worth.

The homes that sold in October took a median of 68.5 days from the first listing to the sale, relistings included. They sold at a median of about 97% of their last asking price. Counting earlier listings, 20 of the 26 homes for sale have cut the price.

If you're buying, there isn't much to choose from right now, so it pays to have your criteria and financing settled before the right home comes up. Tell me what you're after and I'll show you what's selling in that range.

$5.49m

TWELVE-MONTH MEDIAN

The latest full quarter, July to September, closed at a median of $5.85m, down 17% from $7.09m in April to June. One quarter mostly reflects which homes happened to sell, so I'd weigh the last two together.

PRICE PER SQ FT

MONTHS OF SUPPLY BY PRICE RANGE

WHAT IT MEANS

Under $4 million, there are two more homes for sale than on October 4th. Between $4 and $5 million, there is one fewer home for sale than on October 4th. Over $10 million there are 10.9 months of supply, so a buyer there has the most to choose from. Supply is tightest between $5 and $6 million, at 1.4 months.

Sold, size, lot, $/sq ft and total days: closings over the last twelve months, medians of however many sold. For sale: homes listed on November 1st, 2026, by asking price. Vs Oct 4th: the change in homes for sale since October 4th, up in green, down in red, a dash if the same. Supply: homes for sale divided by that range's monthly pace of sales, with its change since October 4th beneath. Where a range had fewer than six sales in twelve months, its pace reaches back by whole months until six sales, never past two years, and the months used show beneath.

IF ONE WAS ON YOUR LIST

Three homes came off the market in the last 30 days without selling. If one of them was on your list, I can find out where it stands. Days are total days on market, counting every listing of the home in an unbroken run.

A NOTE FROM AJ

If I were buying in The Covenant right now

Supply here is thin right now, so I'd have my criteria settled before the right home comes up. The good ones don't wait for a second showing.

If your range is between $5 and $6 million, that's where supply is tightest, at 1.4 months. I'd move faster there than anywhere else in The Covenant.

Before you compare two homes on price per foot, compare the lots. A lot of the value here sits in the land, and price per foot hides it.

Some of the best opportunities I see are homes a buyer can make their own. My design and renovation background is how I help clients see what a home becomes and what the work is worth.
